LEWIS FREEMAN-HARRISON SAYS HE IS PREPARED TO MAKE HARD DECISIONS

Eppalock Ward candidate, Lewis Freeman-Harrison, has stated that he is prepared to make difficult decisions if elected to council next month in October.

“Sometimes tough decisions need to be made. I will always stand on my word and commitment. I am ready to serve Bendigo; I am young, I am strong, and I will deliver.”

Mr. Freeman-Harrison is campaigning on principles of equality and fairness, with support for small business and mental health support being his primary focus. He says he is prepared for others to disagree with him, but says he will state his views respectfully, nonetheless.

“Our actions now will impact the future direction of Bendigo. I welcome healthy debate on council, which is good for governance. We need to start listening to people from all walks of life as everyone has had different experiences and life lessons.”

Mr. Freeman-Harrison, who has been out and about this week visiting the towns he will be representing if elected, reiterated the importance of listening and keeping promises.

“Our council should always listen to the community. Councillors are elected to represent the community, as a Councillor we must always remember who we represent and stick to our promise that we will always put the people first.”

Mr. Freeman-Harrison says he is ready for this challenge and says he feels it is the key focus in the next chapter of his life.

“I am ready for this responsibility. We need an injection of youth on council and boldness to tackle the issues we are facing. I will be bold and I will represent not only my generations, but all generations. Let’s build the Bendigo region stronger than it has ever been before!”
